

CRAIG CHAMBERLAIN

Technical Diving Instructor and Dive School Manager

QUALIFICATIONS

- Trimix Instructor (TDI SSI IANTD PADI)
- CCR Advanced Mixed Gas Diver
- PADI Master Scuba Diver Trainer
- Specialty Instructor: Deep, Wreck, Nitrox, Drysuit, Solo, Night, Nav, etc (TDI SSI IANTD PADI)
- Technical DPV Instructor (TDI SSI IANTD PADI)
- Advanced Trimix Gas Blender Instructor (TDI SSI IANTD PADI)
- Adult & Child Emergency Care Instructor (FRTI SSI EFR)
- Oxygen Administration Instructor (FRTI SSI PADI)
- Apeks Service Technician
- Mares Service Technician
- IDEST Service Technician & Cylinder Inspector

About Me

I did my first intro dive very nervously at the age of 10 whilst on holiday in Sharm El-Sheikh, Egypt. Throughout my teenage years, I visited Egypt during school holidays and my Mum and Dad, not being divers themselves, supported me with the diving that I wanted to do. At the age of 18 my parents and I moved to Egypt and I began to work as a diving instructor. I got into technical diving and found my love there. During the 10 years that I spent in Egypt I did numerous deep, technical dives and progressed to being a Trimix instructor and CCR Advanced Mixed Gas Diver and found my passion for teaching and guiding advanced, deep dives. I ran technical expeditions throughout the Red Sea exploring deeper and longer. I enjoy equipment maintenance and configuration and love teaching kids and adults and watching them develop from OW divers into technical divers. I'm now happy to be settling down in the UK with my partner and to be developing Technical Diving at RoHo as I really enjoy cold water diving and exploration.

